[Ay]er's [Cherr]y Pectoral,

[For diseases] of the Throat and Lungs, [such as C]oughs, Colds, Whooping-[Cough], Bronchitis, Asthma, [a]nd Consumption

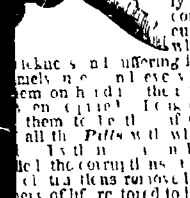

Among the great discoveries of modern science few are of more real value to mankind than this effectual remedy for all diseases of the Throat and Lungs. A vast trial of its virtues, throughout this and other countries, has shown that it does [illegible] control them. [illegible] citizens of all classes, [illegible] fact that CHERRY PECTORAL [illegible] the afflicting [illegible] the Throat and Lung beyond any [illegible] most dangerous [illegible] Pulmonary Organs yield to its [illegible] of Consumption, [illegible] publicly known, [illegible] be believed, [illegible] beyond dispute. As a [illegible] which the public may [illegible] curing Coughs, [illegible] serious diseases [illegible] It challenges [illegible] convinces the most sceptical [illegible] should keep it on hand as a [illegible] and [illegible] which are [illegible] childhood, CHERRY [illegible] is invaluable [illegible] and affection [illegible] them [illegible] and sound [illegible] will [illegible] the Influenza and [illegible] Bron[chitis] [illegible] when they know how [illegible] they can [illegible] ever exhibited and capable of [illegible] cures [illegible]

[Aye]r's Cathartic Pills,

For the relief and cure of all derangements in the stomach, liver and bowels. They are a mild aperient and an excellent purgative. Being purely vegetable they contain no mercury or mineral whatever. Much [illegible] suffering is prevented by [illegible] family should [illegible] them on hand [illegible] protection and [illegible] experience has [illegible] the surest, and [illegible] all the Pills [illegible] the market [illegible] the blood [illegible] the corruptions of the system [illegible] removed and the whole [illegible] Ayer's Pills, [illegible] into health, the value of [illegible] who enjoy it [illegible] The [illegible] coating makes them [illegible] to take and [illegible] so that [illegible] are ever fresh and perfectly reliable [illegible] constitution or occupation. Directions are given on the wrapper to [illegible] how to use them as a Family Physic, [and for] the following complaints, which these [Pills r]apidly cure — [D]yspepsia or Indigestion, Listlessness, Languor and Loss of Appetite [illegible] they should be taken moderately to [illegible] the stomach and restore its healthy [illegible] action. Liver Complaint and its various [sympt]oms, Bilious Headache, Sick Headache, Jaundice or Green Sickness, Bilious Colic and Bilious Fevers [illegible] they should be judiciously taken for [illegible] case to correct the diseased action or [remov]e the obstruction [illegible] Dysentery or Diarrhoea, but one [d]ose is generally required. Rheumatism, Gout, Gravel, [Pal]pitation of the Heart, Pain in [the] Side, Back, and Loins, they should [be c]ontinuously taken as required, to change [the dis]eased action of the system. With such [change] those complaints disappear. Dropsy and Dropsical Swellings they should be taken in large and frequent doses to produce the effect of a drastic [purge]. Suppression [illegible] doses should be [taken] as it produces the desired effect by [symp]athy. [As] a Dinner Pill take one or two Pills to [prom]ote digestion and relieve the stomach. [An o]ccasional dose stimulates the stomach [and b]owels, restores the appetite and invigorates the system. Hence it is often advantageous where no serious derangement exists. [One w]ho feels tolerably well, often finds that [a dos]e of these Pills makes him feel decidedly better, from their cleansing and renovating effect on the digestive apparatus.

DARING FEATS OF AN AERONAUT.

A Beloit, Wisconsin correspondent of the Chicago Journal writes as follows

Mr. R. A. Palmer, the aeronaut, gave a fine exhibition to a large audience at the Beloit Driving Park on last Friday. The day was clear and calm, and his large balloon rose in almost a direct line. Mr. Palmer had no basket, nor was he tied or secured to the trapeze or rings on which he performed his hazardous feats. The balloon being inflated and held down by twenty men the aeronaut seated himself on the trapeze-bar and cried, "let go, everybody," when the balloon went up like a shot. When at the height of 1,000 feet, Palmer let go the ropes, and, falling backward, hung by his toes to the bar; his toes slipped from the bar, and as he dropped his hands caught the two rings which were suspended eight feet below the trapeze, his feet swung downward, and he was seen hanging by one hand to a ring, waving his handkerchief to the wondering mortals below. This feat has never before been attempted, and Palmer performed it here for the first time. His daring and skillful performances, which were continued until the balloon began to descend, were brilliant and thrilling.

Mr. Palmer is about 22 years old and has made more than a hundred and sixty balloon ascensions. He understands and attends to his business, and is undoubtedly the most daring aerial gymnast in the world

A SHREWD LAWYER.

Chief Justice Parsons, of Massachusetts, always maintained that a reputation for eloquence was injurious to a lawyer. He said that a jury generally braced themselves against such a man, determined not to be beguiled by his eloquence, and it took both time and tact to overcome this prejudice. His practice was in harmony with his theory. On one of his first visits to Maine, a young lawyer was attracted to hear him. He found Mr. Parsons already engaged in his argument. He stood with one foot on a chair, and with his elbow on his knee, was talking of the case as familiarly as if at his own fireside. It was evident that his simple and easy manner had taken the jury captive. He was very short, and the deliberation of the jury was much shorter. They gave a verdict for his client, and one of them said to the young lawyer, "Who is this Mr. Parsons? He isn't much of lawyer, and doesn't talk or look like as if he would ever be one, but he seems to be a real good sort of a man." The theory worked well in that case

SENATOR SUMNER.

The Boston Globe says that Mr. Sumner, when on his way with Mr. Longfellow, on Tuesday, Sept. 9th, to visit Mr. Whittier, drove to the old Longfellow homestead in Newbury, Mass., which is still occupied by a William Longfellow, (which was the name of the first settler,) and then to Major Poore's Indian Hill farm in West Newbury, taking, during the day, a drive of thirty miles, and returning to Nahant at night. The next day he returned to Boston and went out to East Walpole, twenty miles from Boston, to the wedding of Miss Fanny Bird, the eldest daughter of Mr. F. W. Bird, and returned to the city at night. This will show how greatly his health has improved since last winter; indeed, the Globe says that now he feels capable of much work, and even of public speaking, to which he has urgent invitations that he has not yet decided to accept. He expects to take his usual share in the business of the Senate next winter

The political situation in the south is thus pictured by the Richmond (Va.) Journal

So general are the hostilities of the whites to the blacks throughout the south (and Virginia was by no means an exception to the general rule) that the colored people find themselves forced into an attitude of political antagonism, much against their earlier sentiments and wishes. Speaking of the acts of individual outrage perpetrated by the whites against the blacks in North Carolina, one of the returned defenders of the perpetrators of those [illegible] honored his own nature and humanity in general by declaring that "they were shocking to humanity, they admitted neither of justification nor excuse, they violated every obligation which law and nature impose upon man." It was these acts of hostility against the negroes of the south and the general unwillingness of the whites to recognize their just rights under the amended constitution that [illegible] to whatever of political antagonism there is in Virginia, or any other southern state, between the black and white. The charge that the republicans of this [illegible] responsible for this antagonism [illegible] desire to continue it [illegible] the [illegible] minority [illegible] the shot [illegible]

IMPORTANT.

The rapid increase of our business, as well as our largely increased facilities for promptly and satisfactorily executing everything pertaining to the printing business, requires us to secure the services of a business agent and traveling correspondent. We are glad to announce that Mr. J. A. BROWN, for the past eighteen months connected with the Tribune, will assume this duty on the 15th inst. He is already too well known to require any notice at our hands. He will make contracts for advertising and job work at our lowest rates. We hope our numerous friends in Central Illinois will favor him with liberal [illegible].

Look out for a desperate attempt to force a tight money market. The clique that were victimized so severely in the effort to corner gold threaten now to make themselves whole by means of the fall stringency. These are the times when the newspapers teem with the arduous labor of "moving the crops," the said moving consisting very often of [illegible] several millions of dollars out of the pockets of merchants and farmers into the coffers of the shavers who dabble in the "tight money" schemes. The best way to thwart all such plans is for [illegible] business men generally to anticipate [illegible] by borrowing no more money than is absolutely necessary. Complaint is made that there is not enough currency to answer the gigantic operations of commerce in so vast a country. The country has three times as much paper as it ever had before the war, and if it had six times as much these nefarious schemes would go on just the same. So long as the speculators of Wall street plunder each other we have nothing to say. But these "tight money" [illegible] are ruinous to hundreds [illegible] manufacturers and business men, and the people generally should combine against them. The excuse for the corner on Black Friday was "moving the crops," and the same old tune is now played over again without any variations.

Here is an extract from the recent speech of the Hon Geo. Pugh, of Ohio, formerly one of the ablest men in the Democratic party: "Now, where is your Democratic party? Talk [illegible] I give you the answer which the people gave when Louis Philippe thought he might put his grandson on the throne. It is too late! it is too late! [Applause.] And you marched off to the city of Baltimore, and with the delegates of the Democratic party from every State in the Union you supported Horace Greeley and B. Gratz Brown, with the relegation of [illegible] the Congressional [illegible]. And now we have my dear old friend William Allen brought up and a parcel of other old boys and young boys, with paper caps on their heads with chicken feathers in them, blowing trumpets and beating drums. Talk to me about the Democratic party! [illegible]

BUSTLES.

BY MERCUTIO.

Webster is silent on the subject of bustles; he does not even intimate a definition. They did not exist in olden times; the ancients were in blissful ignorance of them, as perhaps they were of the steamboat and telegraph and sewing machine, and many other of the modern appliances of civilization.

Bustles now form a part and parcel of the great age in which we live, move and have our being. All women don't wear bustles, women don't wear all bustles, either. I proceed to indite the following epistle to show the truthfulness of the latter proposition. I don't know any young men around here that wear bustles, but I do know plenty of them down East; they all live there that I speak of:

Now go down East and mix in among the young bloods—the young gentlemen, if you please—upon whose shoulders the weight of the government, commerce, politics, &c., is expected to rest in a few short years, and there you will see bustles ad infinitum. One—and the majority of them for that matter—will wear beautiful gold eye-glasses. Of course his eyes are weak, but it has a wonderful effect. They (the eye-glasses) are worn for effect principally—effect on the eyes of the looker on. Now an eye-glass on a young, healthy, fashionable man is nothing but a bustle—intended for nothing else. It is worn across the nose, but that makes no difference. You take that nobby little rattan cane that the same young gentleman twirls between his fingers—that's nothing but a bustle. The location of such an article doesn't determine its name or use. A fashionable young man with a fashionable cane feels just as much inflated, so to speak, as any one else I could name. Don't he? And then again there is that star-spangled article of attire in which there is a beautiful blending of rain bow hues and gossamer strands—the neck-tie. What is it? Did a fellow with a sore throat ever wrap himself up in one of them? Not a bit of it. It performs no other function than to make the wearer look about two and a half inches higher in his boots as he walks down the central aisle of Trinity. It's a bustle for the world, an intelligent jury would so decide. No doubt about it. Again, take those nice, trim fitting boots of French calf that enclose the pedal extremities of the ordinary sprout of fashion. What a nice foot he has! I do declare! Perfectly stunning! I never see a mortal of this kind but what a train of thought is suggested. I wonder if those boots are paid for. I know a young man that wears a pair of this kind of boots that he owes for. The boot maker's wife and children are bare footed and very unhappy. I wonder how long the owner was in getting them on in the morning, and if he has any corns, or is likely to have, and if he goes to church twice on Sundays. These questions, and others of a similar import, readily suggest themselves to an inquiring mind.

Again, I know some folks who own no real estate and pay no taxes, live in a rented house and that poorly furnished, all except the parlor—who are head and front at all places of amusement—the theatres, the concerts, the musical unions, in fact at all fashionable entertainments. These folks all wear bustles; it is the secret of their success in life. There is a good deal of make believe about them. They carry with them a sort of "railroad crossing look-out-for-the-cars" air that makes you scan them with anxiety, and when they are passed you involuntarily think of "some pumpkins," or something of that sort. There are several other kinds of bustle that we might mention, but we haven't the time to catalogue them now. Perhaps, if civilization demands it and we can get the consent of our conscience, we will notice them in the future.

There's a good deal of comfort in a bustle. For instance, take a young man who hasn't paid his last week's board bill but has sufficient wealth about him to pay for a ten cent cigar. Observe with what comfort and equanimity of mind he whiffs the smoke. The atmosphere around him is fragrant with Havana. He asks you to look at those ashes, if you please. He doubts very much if you ever smelt such tobacco before. Again, take the young man—or gentleman, to be more accurate—who has just commenced to build a mustache. The sprouts, however much like hens' teeth, he attaches to them an intrinsic value. He observes their growth day by day with admiration and perseverance.—He gets them dyed, no matter what color his hair may be, and then he is in a perfect transport of delight. He thinks a large portion of the universe hangs on his upper lip. He wouldn't exchange physiognomies with the man in the moon, that boy wouldn't. He looks down the sides of his nose and imagines he can see a vast forest of beard that the neighboring barber would delight to fell. There is no method of [illegible] the amount of [illegible] such a [illegible] bustle inward [illegible].

Hence we conclude from the foregoing remarks that bustles are [illegible] common, that they are useful [illegible]

PARSON BROWNLOW [illegible]

PROPERLY APPRECIATED.

Our clever friend, Horace R. Hobart, of Chicago, has been visiting the Vienna exposition, and while there was the recipient of the most distinguished honors, as will be seen by the following extract from a letter of his to the Chicago Mail:

"But first an unexpected, but I trust not unmerited, honor awaited us. We received a call from the Shah of Persia and the Kaiser of Austria. We were lounging about the exposition grounds, where, incidentally, there were fifteen or twenty thousand other people, when gorgeously uniformed horsemen came dashing frantically in at the main gate, and presently up rode those two worthies with a retinue of high officials. We received them standing and in dignified silence, and then allowed them to pass into the Kaiser's pavilion, where they spent some time at a collation — We were too busy to join them, but passed on into the center of the main building. Here, after a time, they followed us, and as they entered the portal near which we stood the bells pealed forth, the Imperial band in the gallery struck up the grand national air, an organ away across the hall joined in with its deep diapason, and we felt proud and happy. The Shah wore his long moustache, his swarthy skin, his eye-glasses, and his Persian cap, but his diamond-covered vest, and his diamond-blazing cimeter looked still better. Kaiser Francis Joseph, tall, straight, gray-whiskered, dressed in military costume, looked, as he is, every inch a king. Pass on, Shah and Kaiser; may you be happier and better for having seen us."

COST OF THE FRENCH WAR.

The cost to France for her recent war with Germany sums up an enormous aggregate, considering that it lasted but a few months. The expense of maintaining her army, of putting it on a footing; of repairing the large amount of military stores, lost, captured or destroyed; of pensions; and of reorganizing the shattered forces when peace was restored, are themselves enormous, and are estimated by some authorities at as large a figure as the money paid to Germany. The aggregate of the "German payments," including all expenditures, is stated at nearly $1,335,000,000. The "war indemnity" alone was a thousand millions, and two years interest has been fifty millions more. It has cost France nearly fifty-five millions to support the German troops in French territory, and these troops have also taken, without requisitions, property to the value of more than $121,000,000. There was, besides, a special war contribution of $40,000,000, levied on Paris, and other contributions of various sums levied upon other cities. Taking all these expenses together, and adding the estimate for actual military losses above referred to, it would seem that the brief but eventful war of 1870 cost France a larger sum than the public debt of the United States.

THE resolutions adopted by the Massachusetts republican state convention at Worcester, last Wednesday, are eminently clear, wise, and sound.—They claim no credit for the republican policy and record that does not belong to them, they handle without gloves those republicans who have proven unworthy; they promise all that the country can in reason ask, and they favor only those measures which the interests of the public demand.—Chicago Mail.

A FRIEND suggests that Chief Justice Breese is, above all other men, the proper person to deliver the oration at the celebration of the two hundredth anniversary of the arrival of the first white man at Starved Rock, on the Illinois river. He says the Judge is the only man living who was in this state at that time.

BOSTON, September 12.—Some of the crew of the whaler Ansel Gibbs, of New Bedford, before reported wrecked in the Arctic ocean, and brought to New Bedford in the whaling-schooner Abbie Bradford, have reached Bradford and tell a horrible story of their sufferings and torture by the officers of the Ansel Gibbs. They say owing to a neglect to provide suitable provisions the crew were attacked with scurvy.—They were terribly beaten by the captain and first mate, and after the vessel was wrecked ten men died of the scurvy, and those who were foremost in protesting against their ill treatment were left on an island, the Captain of the Abbie Bradford refusing them passage.

Terrible Yellow Fever Panic at Shreveport.

The Town Nearly Depopulated

Tragedy at Yankton.

NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—A St. John (Newfounland) dispatch, says: "Grave doubts are entertained for the safety of the missing crew of the Polaris.—Nearly three months have elapsed since they left their camp. The Esquimaux who wintered with Buddington's party counted by moons, so that the exact time of Buddington's departure is not known. It is believed to be the middle of June. No records were found indicating the intentions of the party, except a memorandum, written in pencil, dating May 18, 1873, and stating that Chester, the mate, had finished making oars from the bulwarks of the Polaris, and had made a good job of it. The Esquimaux were very reticent. They wished to be taken to Pond's bay, whence they came. It was clearly a mistake to leave them behind. It was stated that Joe, the interpeter, could not talk their dialect, but when questioned at Good Haven, he did not get time to converse with them. The instruments are supposed to have been broken by the Esquimaux. When the Tigress returned to Good Haven, she was ordered to prosecute a search in the track of whalers to the westward and northward. The season is an open one. Very little ice is afloat. It is not known when the Tigress will return.—She had 30 days coal on August 31.—The whaling-ship Hector is expected daily from Cumberland sound, and may have welcome tidings. The Juniata is coaling and will sail north immediately. She will have considerable difficulty owing to the lateness of the season.—The whalers will return about the middle of September.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 12.—The Picayune prints the following private letter from Shreveport: "We are now passing through an awful scourge. The yellow fever has come, and, like some awful black pall, thrown its folds about spreading fright, terror and death amongst us. The town is nearly depopulated by stampede and sickness, and there has been, as near as I can ascertain, up to date, sixty deaths and a great number are sick. There is one awful characteristic about the disease, and that is, no one as yet has recovered. Some are what they call doing well, while others die.

"One day, you hear of one case doing well as could be expected, next thing a corpse is waiting for a hearse. In point of malignity and fatality it surpasses any yellow fever ever known here. It appears as if the fell monster ever gets its pestilential fangs fastened on its victim, it never lets go its grip until the poor victim is stiff and stark dead. Ten cases at first dropped in the streets before reaching home, these cases however, are rare.

SIOUX CITY, Sept 12.—Gen. E. S. McCook, Secretary of Dakota, was shot through the breast last night at Yankton by P. P. Wintermute, and died this morning at 7 o'clock. McCook undertook to enter the court room where a railroad meeting was being held, but was met at the door by Wintermute, who, after some high words, drew a pistol and shot McCook, the ball entering near the left shoulder, severing an artery. Stratton then seized Wintermute who fired two more shots without effect.—In the struggle both fell to the floor and were separated by friends.

McCook was carried to his room at the St Charles Hotel bleeding profusely. A consultation of physicians pronounced the wound fatal, and still preserving consciousness, he gradually sank until the hour mentioned. But little is known of the origin of the difficulty. It is generally supposed to be a long standing feud in regard to railroad bonds voted by Yankton county. Wintermute is now in custody. Considerable excitement exists, and some threats of summary vengeance are made.

CHICAGO, Sept 12.—The Irish and German [illegible] controlled by Daniel O'Hara and A. C. Hesing tonight formed a coalition based on the declarations that temperance can be cured only by raising the standard of morality through education and that no class has the right to prescribe how Sunday or any other day shall be enjoyed by a free people.

SPRINGFIELD, ILL., Sept 12.—One additional fact has come to light in Revenue Collector Harper's defalcation. There will be, in addition to the $110,000, about $20,000 of penalties, which Harper failed to collect, and which the government will now collect from the securities of Harper, should those against whom they are charged fail to pay them. General Sweet will not return here, as has been telegraphed.—Supervisor Munn and Major Wilson will be back next week, and in the mean time Mr. Yaryan is engaged upon the books, and expects to strike a balance in a day or two, which will show the exact state of the affair. Mr. Munn has positively forbidden the publication of the official testimony taken in the case.

Hon. Henry S. Greene, of this city, to whom the office of collector is said to have been tendered, has written a letter declining to accept it, on the ground that it would interfere with his legal professional engagements.

The State Board of Equalization today adopted a rule for the assessment of the capital stock of corporations, which has been under consideration for some days. First, the market or fair cash value of the shares of the capital stock and debt, excluding from such debt the indebtedness for current expenses, shall be added together, and the aggregate amount be held to be the fair cash value of the stocks, including the franchise. Secondly, from the aggregate thus ascertained there shall be deducted the aggregate amount of the equalized assessed valuation of all the tangible property. The amount remaining, if any, shall be held to be the fair cash value of the capital stock, including the franchise.

NEW YORK, September 12.—An immense crowd visited the Capitoline Grounds at Brooklyn this afternoon to witness the departure of the big balloon for Europe. The process of inflation commenced at an early hour this morning and continued steadily till ten minutes past 4 p. m. when the balloon suddenly swayed to the north, ripped half way around with a great tearing sound and fell flat upon the ground.—The immense volume of gas which had been pumped into it [illegible]

CONSUMPTION!

AND ITS CURE!

Victims of this awful disease are found in every neighborhood, in almost every house. For them and for their friends, we have tidings of good cheer and hope—the announcement of a most important discovery, firmly based upon common sense and reason, by which the terrible malady is positively controlled, and its victims are restored to health.

WILSON'S

Carbolated Cod Liver Oil

Is not a secret empirical nostrum. It is a happy combination of two remedies known to physicians everywhere as the best means of combating consumption. This combination is Mr. Willson's discovery, and is founded upon the following

SOUND REASONING.

Consumption is decay. Soothing, expectorant remedies are only useful as palliatives, they do not reach the cause—they do not stop the decay. Tonic medicines strengthen the life forces and prolong the battle, but the decay goes steadily on, and sooner or later the victim must yield. Climatic changes are sometimes good, but they seldom wholly cure. In short the very first thing to be done is to STOP THE DECAY; then apply the restorative, tonic and strength giving treatment. Think a moment. The lungs are decaying—tubercles, ulcerations cavities and deposits of poisonous matter (pus) are forming. The circulation carries this poison all over the body. Wasting, loss of appetite, enervation, night sweats, and all the terrible symptoms appear; is it worth while to doctor the symptoms, which are merely the results, while the decay, which is the cause, is eating up the life springs?

These two things are well known by the best physicians:

1st, Carbolic acid positively arrests Decay. It is the most powerful antiseptic in the known world. Even dead bodies are preserved by it. Entering into the circulation, it at once grapples with corruption, and decay ceases. It purifies the sources of disease.

2d. Cod Liver Oil is Nature's best assistant in resisting Consumption. It is at once a food, a tonic, a purifier, and a healer. It braces up and supplies the vital forces, feeds the wasted system, and enables nature to regain her foothold. For these purposes ...

CARBOLATED COD LIVER OIL,

... death's door.

Willson's Carbolated Cod Liver Oil ... prepared with the purest Carbolic acid so combined as to be entirely harmless, with

Sweet Norwegian Cod Liver Oil

from the celebrated fisheries at Aalesund (Norway) pronounced by physicians the most delicate, efficient Cod Liver Oil in the world.

It is easily taken, tolerated by the weakest stomachs, digests readily, never becomes rancid, and is almost entirely free from the usual disagreeable characteristics of Cod Liver Oil.

For every use of Cod Liver Oil Mr. Willson's discovery is of the greatest value.

For the safe internal administration of Carbolic Acid, Mr. Willson's method of combining it with Cod Liver Oil is absolutely necessary.

WILLSON'S

Carbolated Cod Liver Oil!

Is a Specific and Radical Cure for

CONSUMPTION

And Scrofulous Diseases.

Remember the name, "Willson's Carbolated Cod Liver Oil." It comes in large wedge-shaped bottles, bearing the inventor's signature, and is sold by the best druggists.

Prepared by J. H. WILLSON, 83 John St., New York.

Sold by all druggists.

The Daily Republican.

DECATUR, ILLINOIS:

Saturday Evening, Sept. 13.

THE DAILY REPUBLICAN will be delivered to subscribers in any part of the city, at Twenty Cents per Week.

Local Notices will be inserted at Ten Cents per line for the first insertion, and five cents per line for each subsequent insertion. Rates for time advertisements will be furnished upon application at the office.

TO DAILY SUBSCRIBERS.

Subscriptions to the DAILY REPUBLICAN will be collected every Saturday, at the places where the paper is delivered, unless otherwise ordered.

We would be much obliged if our subscribers would inform the carrier at what particular place they desire their papers to be left.

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

WE are authorized to announce MR. OSCAR F. MCKIM as a candidate for re-election to the office of County Superintendent of Schools.

WE are authorized to announce Dr. IRA B. CURTIS as an independent candidate for County Treasurer.

WE are authorized to announce MRS. FRANCES L. HICKMAN as a candidate for Superintendent of Schools for Macon Co.

Official City and County Paper.

CITY DEPARTMENT.

...State Fair at Peoria next week.

...Fresh and pickled salmon, at Imboden's.

...E Rifle cigars, the pet of smokers, at Gardner's drug store.

...California Wine Bitters remove humors from the blood. Sold at Armstrong & Brown's.

...Fanny B Price at the Opera House to-night. Get seats early or you will be left out in the cold.

...Goodness gracious! how the job work does come in! All right, gentlemen, steam is always up, and we'll attend to you promptly.

...New fall styles in millinery goods, just received, at Mrs. L. A Dunning's. d4d*

...Candidates for office at the November election are showing some activity to-day. They are cordial in hand shaking, and profuse with smiles. If any fellow wants to borrow a dollar now is the time to pitch in.

...Burlingame & Co., of Arcola, are just finishing a large and fine elevator at Arthur, a flourishing and rapidly growing town on the Paris & Decatur Railroad.—It will be one of the finest elevators in this part of the State.

...Look out for chills and fever, with this change in the weather. Put on extra clothing, especially in the evening. A little precaution of this kind is much cheaper than quinine and doctors' bills.

...Quite a number of our citizens contemplate attending the State Fair next week. We understand that the prospect for a big show is very encouraging. We have no doubt our own county will bear away its share of the honors.

...The freight business over the Paris & Decatur Railroad is rapidly increasing.—The officers and office employes of the company are pleasant gentlemen, and our people like to do business with them. The road is becoming deservedly popular.

...We were shown yesterday a very fine specimen of drawing of fruit, in water colors, executed by Dr. Reynolds, who is now in the county jail awaiting his trial upon the charge of robbery, claimed to have been committed at the Priest House. The drawing was shown us by Rev. N. P. Heath, to whom it was presented by the prisoner.

...No article of dress is of greater importance in an outfit than a nicely fitting boot or shoe. These you can always get at Geo. F. Wessel's. He has a full and complete assortment of ready made goods, and his facilities for doing custom work are not excelled by any house in the city. Perfect fits are guaranteed. Store on North Water street.

...Benjamin Bristow returned last Monday from Jacksonville, where he was attending a General Association of the colored Baptist Church, as a representative of the Baptist church of the same color in this city. We regret not noticing this event at the proper time.

...As is usually the case on Saturday, our merchants are having a good trade to-day. This is well calculated to put them in good humor for Sunday, if they are not ... Some of them ... shall be- ... and money

... threshing machine, ... of Mr. Wigglesworth, ... of Macon, yesterday, had ... off and his arm broken by being caught in the machinery. It was found necessary to amputate the arm.

Personal.—Mike Hackett and family returned yesterday from a two weeks' visit to New York. We are indebted to Mr. H. for a copy of the New York Graphic, containing illustrations of the great transatlantic balloon.

Mr. Fred. Kuny contemplates taking a trip to Europe this fall, to visit his aged father, who resides in South Germany.

The Danger Past.—Several days have elapsed since any new cases of the peculiar type of sickness which prevailed in the Hutchinson family have been reported. We presume the local causes have been removed, or at least mitigated; and we are happy to know that what threatened at one time to become epidemic in that vicinity has disappeared.

Anthracite Coal, at WESTERN COAL YARD.

Army Reunion.—The seventh annual reunion of the Army of the Tennessee takes place at Toledo, O., on Wednesday and Thursday, Oct. 15th and 16th. The annual address will be delivered by Major-General John A. Logan. All officers who at any time served with honor in the Department of the Tennessee, are by the constitution of the society, members, and are cordially invited to be present. Members of kindred societies are invited to participate. The call is signed by General W. T. Sherman, President.

Mallory's Diamond Fresh Oysters, at MILLER'S.

Delayed.—It seems that the meeting of the stockholders of the Decatur Coal and Mining Company failed to effect an organization on Wednesday night, on account of the call for the meeting not being legally issued. This will occasion a delay of a few days while legal notices may be issued. The meeting will be held and the organization effected, as soon as the time prescribed by the charter will admit.

Block Coal, at WESTERN COAL YARD.

Theatrical.—"The New Magdalen" was rendered in fine style last evening, at the Opera House, by Miss Fanny B. Price and her company. The audience was large and appreciative. Miss Price as "Mercy Merrick" is not excelled by any actress in the country. Mrs. H. Moore rendered "Lady Janet Roy," mistress of Mablethorpe House, to perfection, and Miss Julia Hanchet as "Grace Roseberry" did her part in fine style. Mr. R. S. Meldrum as the English clergyman is hard to beat, and Mr. J. M. Murray as an English war correspondent, and afterward guest of "Lady Janet Roy," did his work in the very best manner.

This evening the new sensational drama "Jane Eyre; or the Orphan of Lowood," will be given, with Miss Price as "Jane Eyre."

It is not often that such fine talent as is comprised in this company appears upon the Decatur boards, and a crowded house should greet them on this their last appearance for this engagement.

Have a Variety.—The rain of yesterday put the ground in good condition for seeding; wheat sowing is yet in good time, and quite a large breadth will be sown. Our farmers will find it to their advantage to diversify their crops; corn has had too large a share of their attention and consequently the market has been glutted when the crop was large, and when it failed they had nothing to fall back upon. Let the ground be divided between the different kinds of grain and other produce; then if one fails the other will bring its return, and the farmers' labor for the year is not lost. There are but few kinds of farm produce to which our soil is not adapted, and agriculturists will find themselves operating to much better advantage if they turn their attention to a variety of products than to confine themselves exclusively to one kind.

Back Again.—Gus. Ansback has returned to his old quarters on the south side of the Park, where he will resume the shears and razor in person, assisted by the best talent that can be procured in his line of trade. He will constantly keep four chairs, and will spare no pains to have work done promptly and well. The continued patronage of old customers is solicited, with a polite invitation to the public generally to give him a call. 1t.

Not One.—We go to press to-day without any police record. This certainly shows an encouraging state of affairs in the matter of sobriety and good order.—Our police would not allow any case to pass unnoticed that deserved their attention, so we can attribute this absence of police business from the Justice's courts, to the good behavior of the people. We trust the numerous people in town to-day will show their good sense by going home from their weekly holiday "clothed in their right mind."

Religious.—Owing to the indisposition of the pastor there will be no services at Stapp's Chapel to-morrow, morning and evening.

Much Needed.—Among other public improvements we suggest the laying of a good crossing on South Water street, from the REPUBLICAN office to the building opposite. Of course it would be no particular accommodation to us, but it might be to the public.

Armstrong & Brown are happy to inform the public that they are now fully stocked up with everything pertaining to their line of trade. Pure drugs, best quality of paints and oils, together with a full line of toilet and fancy goods. Give them a call, at their store, corner of East Main street and the old square.

C. Young & Co. keep a full assortment of the very best quality at their meat market on North Main street, near Priest's Hotel. Sugar cured hams constantly on hand.

The Colored School.—This school will open on Monday at the usual place, under the instruction of a competent teacher.

For Sale.—A good carriage horse suitable for family use. Apply at the residence of S. J. Mellan in the opera block. d1w

An Invitation.—Everybody is invited to call at S. Einstein's and examine the new, full and complete stock of dry goods, just arrived from the east. The selection of our new fall stock cannot be surpassed, and our prices defy competition. We are bound to undersell the lowest, and we are determined to sell none but the very best goods. Our stock of dry goods is complete in every department, all we ask is to have them examined and learn the prices; we guarantee satisfaction. We specify no prices here but pledge ourselves to sell cheaper than any other house in the city. Our stock consists of a fine assortment of prints, domestics, dress goods, flannels, cassimeres, blankets white and colored, and a complete selection of ladies' and gents' furnishing goods and notions. Be sure and call and examine our goods and learn our prices, as we consider it no trouble to show goods. No. 21 N. Water street, next door to Fenton's clothing store. 1w.

Notices of the Press:

The ever-increasing circulation of this excellent monthly proves its continued adaptation to popular desires and needs.—Indeed, when we think into how many homes it penetrates every month, we must consider it as one of the educators as well as entertainers of the public mind, for its vast popularity has been won by no appeal to stupid prejudice or depraved tastes.—Boston Globe.

The character which this Magazine possesses for variety, enterprise, artistic wealth and literary culture that has kept pace with, if it has not led the times, should cause its conductors to regard it with justifiable complacency. It also entitles them to a great claim upon the public gratitude. The Magazine has done good and not evil all the days of its life.—Brooklyn Eagle.

Ayer's

Cherry Pectoral,

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping-Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, and Consumption.

Among the great discoveries of modern science, few are of more real value to mankind than this effectual remedy for all diseases of the Throat and Lungs. A vast trial of its virtues, throughout this and other countries, has shown that it does surely and effectually control them. The testimony of our best citizens, of all classes, establishes the fact, that CHERRY PECTORAL will and does relieve and cure the afflicting disorders of the Throat and Lungs beyond any other medicine. The most dangerous affections of the Pulmonary Organs yield to its power; and cases of Consumption, cured by this preparation, are publicly known, so remarkable as hardly to be believed, were they not proven beyond dispute. As a remedy it is adequate, on which the public may rely for full protection. By curing Coughs, the forerunners of more serious disease, it saves unnumbered lives, and an amount of suffering not to be computed. It challenges trial, and convinces the most sceptical. Every family should keep it on hand as a protection against the early and unperceived attacks of Pulmonary Affections, which are easily met at first, but which become incurable, and too often fatal, if neglected. Tender lungs need this defence; and it is unwise to be without it. As a safeguard to children amid the distressing diseases which beset the Throat and Chest of childhood, CHERRY PECTORAL is invaluable; for, by its timely use, multitudes are rescued from premature graves, and saved to the love and affection centred on them. It acts speedily and surely against ordinary colds, securing sound and health-restoring sleep. No one will suffer troublesome Influenza and painful Bronchitis, when they know how easily they can be cured.

Originally the product of long, laborious, and successful chemical investigation, no cost or toil is spared in making every bottle in the utmost possible perfection. It may be confidently relied upon as possessing all the virtues it has ever exhibited, and capable of producing cures as memorable as the greatest it has ever effected.

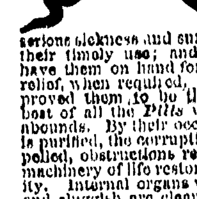

PREPARED BY

Dr. J. C. AYER & CO., Lowell, Mass.,

Practical and Analytical Chemists.

SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS EVERYWHERE.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,

For the relief and cure of all derangements in the stomach, liver, and bowels. They are a mild aperient, and an excellent purgative. Being purely vegetable, they contain no mercury or mineral whatever. Much serious sickness and suffering is prevented by their timely use; and every family should have them on hand for their protection and relief, when required. Long experience has proved them to be the safest, surest, and best of all the Pills with which the market abounds. By their occasional use, the blood is purified, the corruptions of the system expelled, obstructions removed, and the whole machinery of life restored to its healthy activity. Internal organs which become clogged and sluggish are cleansed by Ayer's Pills, and stimulated into action. Thus incipient disease is changed into health, the value of which change, when reckoned on the vast multitudes who enjoy it, can hardly be computed. Their sugar-coating makes them pleasant to take, and preserves their virtues unimpaired for any length of time, so that they are ever fresh, and perfectly reliable. Although searching, they are mild, and operate without disturbance to the constitution or diet or occupation.

Full directions are given on the wrapper to each box, how to use them as a Family Physic, and for the following complaints, which these Pills rapidly cure:—

For Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Listlessness, Languor, and Loss of Appetite, they should be taken moderately to stimulate the stomach, and restore its healthy tone and action.

For Liver Complaint and its various symptoms, Bilious Headache, Sick Headache, Jaundice or Green Sickness, Bilious Colic and Bilious Fevers, they should be judiciously taken for each case, to correct the diseased action or remove the obstructions which cause it.

For Dysentery or Diarrhœa, but one mild dose is generally required.

For Rheumatism, Gout, Gravel, Palpitation of the Heart, Pain in the Side, Back, and Loins, they should be continuously taken, as required, to change the diseased action of the system. With such change those complaints disappear.

For Dropsy and Dropsical Swellings, they should be taken in large and frequent doses to produce the effect of a drastic purge.

For Suppression, a large dose should be taken, as it produces the desired effect by sympathy.

As a Dinner Pill, take one or two Pills to promote digestion, and relieve the stomach.

An occasional dose stimulates the stomach and bowels, restores the appetite, and invigorates the system. Hence it is often advantageous where no serious derangement exists. One who feels tolerably well, often finds that a dose of these Pills makes him feel decidedly better, from their cleansing and renovating effect on the digestive apparatus.

The Diamond Glasses,

MANUFACTURED BY

J. E. Spencer & Co., N. Y.,

Which are now offered to the public, are pronounced by all the celebrated Opticians of the world to be the MOST PERFECT, natural, artificial help to the human eye ever known.

They are ground under their own supervision, from minute Crystal Pebbles, melted together, and derive their name, "Diamond," on account of their hardness and brilliancy.

THE SCIENTIFIC PRINCIPLE on which they are constructed brings the core or centre of the lens directly in front of the eye, producing a clear and distinct vision, as in the natural, healthy sight, and preventing all unpleasant sensations, such as glimmering and wavering of sight, dizziness, &c., peculiar to all others in use.

They are mounted in the finest manner in frames of the best quality, of all materials used for that purpose.
